LITTLE LEAGUE CHAMPS' AWARD GIVEN SATURDAY

"The Little League is the greatest thing that ever happened for youth in Gettysburg," Glenn L. Bream, sponsor of the "Yankee" team in the loop, said Saturday in receiving a trophy from the league emblematic of his team's winning the championship of the circuit.

Presentation of the trophy was made at a special program held for the Yankee squad members and their parents by the Little League at Gettysburg High School.

In presenting the trophy Charles Smith, president of the league, said: "The trophy is given not only for the championship won by the boys, but the manner in which they won it. They played clean, hard baseball of the best type. They not only were the champions of the league but they behaved as true champions — win, lose or draw."

Smith then introduced Luther Sachs Jr., coach for the team, who distributed shoulder patches with the word "Champion" to the 16 members of the team.

The program followed presentation of movies of the Gettysburg College football team in action. Refreshments were served following the program.

In the afternoon the youngsters were guests of Coach Sachs for the televised presentation of the World Series game.

At the program Smith and Bream announced plan for a Junior League next year for youngsters beyond the Little League age. Turkey, Brazil, New Zealand Win UN Security Council Seats

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P) — U. S.-backed Turkey beat out Russian-supported Poland for a seat on the U. N. Security Council today. Victory came on the eighth ballot.

Brazil and New Zealand were elected to two other council vacancies on the first ballot without serious opposition.

On the eighth ballot, Turkey got 40 votes to 19 for Poland.

Balloting in the 60-nation General Assembly, which elects council members, was secret.

Russia has demanded that the U. N. live up to a 1946 "gentleman's agreement" whereby the Eastern European countries—now all Soviet satellites—were assured representation. That bloc ran Poland in today's election.

The United States, which claimed the agreement was valid for only

The choral group — whose history dates back 900 years — left England September 24 on the Queen Elizabeth. Their itinerary calls for a two-month North American stay. The trip marks the first time the choir has left the British Isles for a series of concerts. They will tour 27 states and several of the Canadian provinces.

SCOUTS CHECK BRUSH FIRE AT CAMP CONEWAGO

A brush fire, apparently started by a smoldering rubbish pile, was halted by Boy Scouts and leaders Saturday afternoon at Dicks' Dam after burning about an acre and before any damage was done to nearby buildings and cottages.

The blaze was discovered about 4 o'clock by Donald Pitts, nearby cottager, who summoned about 30 boys and leaders from nearby Camp Conewago where they were attending weekend Jack Frost nature course.

The fire originated near buildings at the M. C. Spangler cottage and burned over adjoining land towards the cottage owned by Harry M. Gilt, III, where the flames were checked within a few feet of a garage and boathouse.

100 Boys There

It was believed the blaze originated from a rubbish fire at the Spangler buildings. No one was home at the time. A fire guard was maintained by Charles Harris, field executive of Conewago and Black Walnut Boy Scout districts, and several boys until about 7 o'clock.

A total of 100 boys and 20 leaders from the two districts attended the weekend event. Scouts were represented from Troop 12, York; Troop 71, Biglerville; Troop 79, Gettysburg; Troop 85, New Oxford, and Troops 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 109 and 116, all of Hanover. JUDGE SHEELY SAYS GOP VOTE WOULD ENDORSE FINE, SALES TAX

"A vote for the Republican Party in November is a stamp of approval for the sales tax and the administration of Gov. John S. Fine, while a Democratic vote is a protest against both," Judge W. C. Sheely told approximately 600 Democrats gathered Saturday afternoon at the Lincoln Lods for the annual pre-election rally of the county Democratic party.

Judge Sheely charged that the Pennsylvania sales tax "is a result of the failure of the Republican Party to keep its promises."

He also charged that the Republican party is "remaining neutral" on the question of revising Pennsylvania's 79-year-old state constitution.

Favors Revision

Judge Sheely, a candidate for State Superior Court on the Democratic ticket, claimed that the Republican State Committee has failed to instruct county chairmen to press for approval by the voters in the November 3 election on the proposed revision of the state constitution.

"How can this attitude of the GOP State Committee be reconciled with the pledge of the party platform on which the Republicans won the last election?" Judge Sheely asked.

He added: "Gov. Fine made an unqualified statement in which he told the people of the state they could not get the government to which they are entitled until the constitution is rewritten."

"Those of us who sincerely desire to have our constitution rewritten to better serve the needs of our people hope the Republican party will back up its platform with action, as the Democratic Party has done," Judge Sheely was president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association when that group adopted a resolution favoring the calling of a constitutional convention.

Other Candidates There

Genevieve Blatt, secretary of the state Democratic Committee, decried the "manner in which the Chesterman Committee recommendations were dumped by the Republicans at Harrisburg." If the Chesterman recommendations for revising the state administration had been carried into effect, Miss Blatt said, "there would have been no need for the sales tax foisted upon the state. The sales tax is another example of what we have to undergo as a result of the broken promises of the Republican party."

She added that the "sales tax is unfair, full of loopholes, contradictory, encourages people to disregard the law and a burden on the honest (Continued on Page 2)

FORESTERS MAN FIRE TOWERS IN DRY MOUNTAINS

District foresters ordered seven fire towers in this section manned Sunday as a safeguard against the spread of flames in tinder-dry forests.

Both Richard L. Dolton, Michaux district forester, and Ralph Schmidt, Buchanan district forester, said they ordered the towers manned earlier than usual this year because of the condition of the forests and the large number of outdoor enthusiasts who are taking advantage of ideal weather to go into the woods.

Both reported streams in the area, normally good sized bodies of water, have been reduced to mere trickles by the dry weather. The two districts include Cumberland, Franklin, Adams, Fulton and Bedford Counties.

Meanwhile, a number of communities in the area were eyeing diminishing water reserves with open alarm.

Shippensburg particularly was plagued as the flow in mountain streams ebbed. Emergency pumping equipment at Roxbury was put on a 24-hour basis instead of the eight-hour operation (Continued on Page 2)

In addition to a brief business session a period will be devoted to plans for the October 24 auction to be held in the Hotel Gettysburg Annex. Proceeds from the auction will go toward the cost of converting Brua Chapel into a Fine Arts building. Members of the Executive Board who will be hostesses for the afternoon are urging each member to bring to the meeting some "unwanted treasure" as a contribution toward the auction. A social hour will follow the business session. New residents of the community are invited to attend.

I don't mean that you should pry . . . but that you should give assistance . . . or at least give it a try . . . don't belittle or don't envy . . . what your neighbor tries to do . . . but instead give the encouragement . . . he needs to follow through . . . speak well of him when talking . . . never ridicule or mock . . . and if there is nothing good to say . . . keep silent and don't knock . . . if you practice what I've told you . . . you'll be happy and you'll see . . . that your neighbor will be friendly . . . just because you're neighborly.

WORKING FOR A "BREAK"

There are two types of individuals traveling on the road to what they name as their objective. Perhaps the one word "success" applies to each, but one waits for the lucky break, and the other works for that break that leads to a victorious conclusion.

The persistent man or woman is the undefeatable one. He or she never knows when he or she is defeated in his or her climb to success. The inventor or scientific investigator is never discouraged by the number of tries. He only takes note of his progress. Something is being revealed at every attempt. Edison once stated that every failure marked one less that wouldn't have to be tried again.

I recently read of one writer who received 36 rejection slips from The Saturday Evening Post before she had one acceptance—but that acceptance signaled her to fame and fortune. She worked for that "break!" It's something that we all must do if we would gloriously succeed.

We owe it to ourselves and, incidentally, to others to use every method at our command to give expressions to all that we own within ourselves. By successfully climbing one hill we are inspired to climb another that is higher. None of us know our full potentiality until we have been put to the test. There are numberless sleeping geniuses in the world who never wake up! They are waiting for a break instead of working for it.

In noting the thousands of names in "Who's Who" it is interesting to discover how many have made note of their humble origin. Many take pride in stating the fact. They seem to imply that anyone who will work for a break in life will get it. It's that something which one has that another has not. It's the mastering of that "tide" Shakespeare speaks of, "which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

How many Charles A. Lindberghs are there in the world? They called him "lucky." But he was lucky because he worked for the breaks that were his because of his faith, his courage, and his knowledge of the tools at hand. He demonstrated what others might do!

THE PURCHASE

She bought some things she didn't need.
But never mentioned why.
She heard him tell his hope to sell
And said: "I'm glad to buy."

She looked upon his proffered wares
And from them chose a few.
The bill she paid. A sale he'd made
Was all the vendor knew.

He thanked her as he turned to leave.
His head once more held high.
For he had heard a cheerful word
From some one glad to buy.

Her husband told her later on:
"You've foolish been once more."
Said she: "Don't mind, the man was blind
Who called me to the door."

telegram from Millfin, Pa., stated that Rev. A. H. Aughe had died very suddenly on the floor of the Central Synod in session at that place. Mr. Aughe entered the Lutheran ministry about 30 years ago. His last charge was in Cumberland county, which he resigned some months ago in consequence of impaired health and came to Gettysburg to recuperate. His health being apparently restored he was looking to a resumption of active duties of the ministry. At Millfin he had taken part in the discussion of a pending topic, and on taking his seat was seen to fall over, and in a few minutes was a corpse. Mr. Aughe married a daughter of the late George Christman, of this place, and leaves a widow and several children. He was about 57 years of age. It seems that recently he was somewhat affected with disease of the heart. The remains will be brought to Gettysburg and will be interred in Evergreen Cemetery. New Play Opens At Allenberry Tonight

"Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered" is a well-known romantic ballad but it is also the condition of the young man in "Bell, Book and Candle," the van Druten comedy which opens tonight at the Allenberry Playhouse.

The young man in "Bell, Book and Candle" becomes charmed and thoroughly confused by the antics of an attractive girl, who turns out to be a modern day witch. To further complicate matters, the girl is chaperoned by an aunt and brother, who are old fashioned and believe witches can be excommunicated for falling in love. The conflict between mortals and mystics is combined with the fast-moving repartee of a van Druten play.

Muriel Berkson will make her Allenberry debut in the starring role of the vivacious witch. Miss Berkson is a veteran of six seasons of stock in New York, Ohio, Wisconsin and Connecticut. Clarke Gordon, another new face at Allenberry will be seen as the young man in "Bell, Book and Candle."

Messenger said the flames got out of control while he was destroying the wreckage. There was no other damage. Two trucks used booster ladders to control the fire.

Earl Codwallader, 18, of Dillsburg R. 3 received minor injuries when his car crashed into a bridge abutment on Route 15 south of Lemoyne, Sunday He was treated at the Harrisburg Hospital dispensary and discharged.

Bullets Outclass Western Maryland For 46-7 Triumph Before 5,000 Fans At Hanover

Gettysburg College's gridiron machine, oiled by Quarterback Frank Gagliardi, trounced a willing but outclassed Western Maryland team 46-7 before 5,000 in a benefit for the Past Commanders Association of the Hanover American Legion at Hanover Saturday night.

The Bullets, who were rebounding from the 19-7 defeat at the hands of University of Delaware, displayed fine form in every department except the penalty section to romp at will against a Green Terror eleven that had defeated Dickinson, 14-0, in its only other outing.

Spectators who left the game early missed the most thrilling play as with 11 seconds remaining, Ernie Paliszewski, Johnstown speedster, took a Western Maryland kickoff on his own 12, raced to his right and ran into several tacklers, shook them off and reversed his field to his left to go the whole distance. It was the final play of the game.

In rolling up the highest number of points in a Gettysburg-Western Maryland game since 1896 when the Bullets won 64-0, Coach John Yovissin's crew wasted little time scoring and at the end of the first quarter had amassed a 20-0 lead.

First Period Scores
Here is how the touchdowns came in the first period:
Gagliardi tossed a 12-yard pass to End Ron Jacobi in the end zone in 5:20 to climax a 27-yard advance. Walt Hemberger and Jacobi had blocked a fourth down Western Maryland punt to give the Bullets the ball on the 27.

After Bob Eppelman recovered a fumble by White on the Terror's 24, Gettysburg was on its way again, with a Gagliardi-Ujohal pass for 18 in 9:10 as the scoring play. Ujohal added the extra point on a kick.

Yingst Intercepts
An interception by Sheldon Yingst, Bullet center, set up the third score. Yingst intercepted on the foe's 35 and raced back to the 10, Eppelman, on a pitch-out around left, gained five, and Ujohal scored on a delayed buck in 13:10. Ujohal placedkicked the extra point.

Neither team was able to master much offensive until late in the second quarter when Ujohal took a Western Maryland punt on his own 40 and the Terror's were penalized 15 for piling on. Ujohal, who was Gettysburg's best running back of the night, gained 27 on two plays. Yocum picked up the two and Eppelman three but the Bullets were penalized 15 for clipping. After an incomplete pass, Gagliardi tossed to Hemberger to the Terror's 8. Ujohal carried for the score but a backfield in motion penalty moved the Bullets back to the 13. Gagliardi tossed to Hemberger on the next play for a touchdown in 14:45. Ujohal's placement attempt was blocked.

The Bullets marched 45 yards in the third quarter for their fifth touchdown. After getting the ball on Western Maryland's 45 by virtue of a poor punt, Ujohal, Eppelman and Yost moved the ball to the four with Ujohal's 15-yard run, the largest gain of the advance. Yost bulled over for the TD in 7:50. Ujohal booted a perfect placement to make the score 33-0.

Paliszewski Gets Pair
Paliszewski took over for Gettysburg in the final quarter. On one play he moved 38 yards for a score and then on the final play of the game dashed 88 for another. Soltesz added the extra point on the first score, but Pratt failed in his placement after the second.

The Green Terrors, unable to penetrate Gettysburg's first line defense, finally scored in the final period as Arnold Needleman passed to Albert Miller in the end zone in 14:49. Nick Rausch's attempt for the extra point was good.

The Bullets were a much improved ball club. Gagliardi's improvement at the quarterback slot was pleasing to the Bullet fans. The Bullet line smothered opposing backs throughout. Offensively, Ujohal, a Maxwell Club winner in the 1952 Western Maryland game, gained 126 yards in 12 carries for an average of better than 10 yards per try. Sheldon Yingst, husky Gettysburg College center, suffered a shoulder dislocation in the game.

Next Saturday night Gettysburg plays Albright at Reading. The Lions lost to Lafayette Saturday night, 28-6, and will be eager to bounce back at the expense of the Bullets.

NOTRE DAME IS RULING ROOST IN COLLEGE GRID

NEW YORK (AP)—Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown, Shakespeare wrote many centuries ago, but he didn't have the Notre Dame football team in mind.

Lachrymose Frank Leahy's men ruled the college football roost today, and they have no reason to fear anyone. They don't play this Saturday, so they'll have two weeks to sharpen their claws for the University of Pittsburgh two weeks hence.

The Irish beat the tar out of Purdue Saturday, 37-7, right on the heels of hanging a 28-21 defeat on Oklahoma.

Rolling Right Along
Michigan State, Ohio State and Michigan are rolling right along with Notre Dame.

All three looked like worldbeaters on Saturday. The Spartans won their 26th straight game, clubbing Minnesota, 21-0; Ohio State polished off California, 33-19; and Michigan ruined Tulane, 27-7.

The South may not have a really outstanding team for the first time in many a moon—unless Georgia Tech snaps out of the doldrums. The Engineers, tied by Florida two weeks ago, defeated Southern Methodist by the weird score of 6-4.

Mississippi Shut Out
Mississippi was shut out by Auburn, 13-0 after winning its first two from weak foes. Tennessee has yet to score a point in two losses, the last being 21-0 to Duke. Alabama has a loss, a tie and a 21-12 victory over Vanderbilt to show for the year's work.

Right now, Mississippi State, Duke and Maryland loom as the class of the section. State has yielded only 12 points in winning three games. It trounced North Texas State, 21-6 Saturday for No. 3. State will get a pretty stiff test against Auburn this week.

Third For UCLA
On the Pacific Coast, the Southern California Trojans licked Indiana 27-14 for their third conquest. UCLA made Oregon their third straight victim Saturday, 12-0, and now have permitted only one touchdown in 180 minutes of football. California, usually a coast power, seems to lack the horses after being routed by Ohio State.

In the Southwest, most of the teams still are awaiting for a big test, but Rice and Baylor rule the choices. Rice made a trip East Saturday and swamped Cornell, 28-7. But form means little in this section and many a year the team that looks like the weak sister at the start winds up the master.

Littlestown Handed 49-13 Defeat By Washington Twp. In Laurel Conference Game

Washington Township's unbeaten football team and defending Laurel Conference champions, handed the Littlestown High gridders a 49-13 drubbing on the winner's field Saturday afternoon.

The Bulldogs yielded a touchdown to the Thunderbolts in the first period and then rammed over four six-pointers in the second quarter after which the outcome was never in doubt. Bob Minnich, Washington Township extra point specialist, converted after each of his team's seven TDs.

Littlestown took the home team by surprise in the first period when it marched 61 yards for a score. James Kress racing the final 15 yards to hit pay dirt. Don Sell missed on his placement for the point.

The aroused township team roared back with four scores in the second period.

L. Shank tallied the first six-point on a buck from the three-yard stripe. The second came on a 70-yard runback of a Littlestown punt by Berkite. A blocked Thunderbolt punt by Royer which Minnich fell on in the end zone produced the third Bulldog score while the final tally of the quarter was the result of a 23-yard pass, Ulrich to Berkite, in the end zone.

Bolt Pass Clicks
Each team scored touchdowns in the third period. Littlestown was the result of a 55-yard drive and was climaxed by Don Kump hurling a pass to Dean Selby in the end zone from the 7-yard line. Chanley Hall added the point on a placement.

A 16-yard run by Ulrich gave Washington Township its score in the same stanza.

The final pair of Bulldog scores in the last period were the result of a 39-yard scamper by Monn and a 15-yard sprint by Mentzer.

Littlestown recorded 11 first downs to eight for the winners. The Bolts completed three of 15 passes and four were intercepted. Washington Township made good on one of nine aerials and two were stolen by Littlestown. Littlestown lost 5 yards via penalties and Washington Township was penalized 15.

Littlestown now has a record of one victory, a tie, and two setbacks. Next Saturday they play at Dallastown in the only loop tilt of the week.

CASEY STENGEL OPTIMISTIC ON YANK CHANCES

BROOKLYN (AP)—Maybe it was because they sensed the extra cash which goes to the winners but regardless of the reason the New York Yankees were a different ball club after beating the Brooklyn Dodgers 11-7 yesterday and taking a 3-2 lead in the World Series.

For the first time since the 50th World Series started there was real excitement in the Yank dressing room.

"Pretty good," Manager Casey Stengel muttered as he wormed through the crowd. Then, a few minutes later, he confessed he felt optimistic about the outcome of the series.

"Chances Are Better"
"We're going back to our own park now, and that should be an advantage. Last year we had to play the last two here (Ebbets Field). And we were behind, 3-2, instead ahead, 3-2, so you'd have to say our chances are better."

But before naming today's pitcher he consulted pitching coach Jim Turner. Finally, after a brief huddle, Casey shouted "Ford."

Mickey Mantle, whose third-inning bases-loaded home broke the game wide open, said he hit "a belt high curve—the same kind of a ball they were throwing me the other day." He referred to Friday, when he fanned four times on Carl Erskine's pitches.

Hit His Best Pitches
Over in the Dodgers' dressing room, Russ Meyer agreed with Mantle as to the kind of pitch the young Yankee center fielder hit.

"It was one of my best pitches," said Meyer. "Erskine had been telling me—and we had been noticing it. Mantle had been running away from the pitches. So I fed him a low overhead curve—a bouncer, just like the kind Carl was giving him Friday. It was a low one and a good breaker. But this time he stepped into it like he was mad at somebody and murdered it. They knocked the stuffing out of my best pitches. What can you do in a case like that?"

Charlie Dressen didn't hesitate in naming his pitcher for the sixth game.

"Backs To The Wall"
"Our backs to the wall again and it's up to Erskine," he said. "He's pitched with two days rest before and done okay."

Erskine himself said he welcomed the opportunity to face the Yanks for the third time but added soberly:

"I haven't pitched with two days rest this year and I don't know how good my stuff will be. This is sure, I think I can do as well in Yankee Stadium as in Ebbets Field. I don't think a ball park means anything to a pitcher."

Not Homers In Stadium
Ford lasted only one inning when he started the fourth game at Ebbets Field.

Dressen had his right-handed explosives planted again today, with Jackie Robinson hitting third and Roy Campanella fourth. Duke Snider, left-handed hitter, was down in the sixth slot, below Gil Hodges. Charlie was very confident that his right-hand array would knock Ford loose.

Six home runs were hit in all yesterday, but there is some doubt that any one of them would have

Whitey Ford Goes For Yanks Today In Effort To Close Out Series; Erskine Twirls For Brooks

NEW YORK (AP)—It's almost a sure thing these days that the two World Series teams will play themselves an awful game along about midway, the shortage of really good pitchers being what it is, and the Yankees and Dodgers turned theirs in yesterday.

The final score was 11-7 in favor of the Yankees, which meant that the American Leaguers went into today's sixth and possibly final game leading by three victories to two.

The four-time-straight world champions were back in their own park in the Bronx with their crack young left-hander, Whitey Ford, on the mound. The Dodgers, needing desperately to win this one, were relying on their new World Series strikeout king, Carl Erskine.

Considering his brilliant exploit of only three days ago, when he fanned 14 Yankees and beat them by 3-2, Erskine looked like a very good bet to knot the playoff at 3-3 and sent it into its binding game tomorrow. But Charlie Dressen, the Brooklyn manager, was ready to shoot the works.

"If he's needed, Preacher Roe will be ready to relieve," he said last night. "I would like to have him to start the seventh game, but I won't be saving anybody when these games are playing out the way they are now. I worked with him only three days rest not long ago, thinking about this, and the Preach looked all right."

There was much opinion that the Yanks had more to worry about today than the Dodgers had. Few who watched Erskine throttle the champs two days ago and who saw what angry, humiliated athletes there were later in the dressing room could imagine that they would give the handsome right-hander trouble. But they could easily imagine the Brooks' right-handed power taking great chunks out of Ford again.

Not Homers In Stadium
Ford lasted only one inning when he started the fourth game at Ebbets Field.

Six home runs were hit in all yesterday, but there is some doubt that any one of them would have been a home run in Yankee Stadium, where there is room for balls to travel in left field. The guess here is that five would have been long out at the Stadium and that Mickey Mantle's grand slammer in the third inning would have been a triple over Jackie Robinson's head.

Yesterday's game was a sloppy contest. Each club made six earned runs. The Yankees scored five times in the third inning after they should have been out and Johnny Podres, the juvenile who started pitching for the Dodgers, should have been out of trouble.

With two Yanks away, Podres got Collins, the first baseman, to slap a ball sharply down the right line. Gil Hodges muffed it beautifully, letting a run across. This appeared to ruffle the Dodger pitcher. He proceeded to hit the next batter and walk the bases full.

Dressen replaced him with temperamental Russ Meyer, who had been warming up since the game began. The bases were loaded. There stood Meyer and there stood Mantle, the latter not having been able to hit a baseball with a bass-fiddle in his most recent attempts.

Meyer came in overhand with his first pitch. Mantle, who had been hit on his throwing hand and sorely hurt in pregame batting practice, knocked it far and away into the upper deck in left field. That made the score 6-1, and whatever happened after that was pretty much lost in the shuffle.

Pottsville Whips Sunbury Gridders
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The Crimson Tide of Pottsville High recovered from an early Sunbury touchdown to whip the Owls and take over control atop the Southern Division of the East Penn Football Conference.

Scranton Tech upset the defending league titlist, Old Forge, but failed to tumble the Blue Devils from the top of the Northern Division standings in the second weekly rating list released by the league.

Sunbury dropped to third behind St. Clair in the Southern Division as Pottsville went on for its fourth straight win against no losses 28-7. Three are league victories. Mahanoy City and Schuylkill Haven are tied for fourth.

West Scranton took the measure of Hazleton to jump to the runner-up spot in the Northern Division. Tech and Nanticoke are tied for third.

Neutral Commission To Get Going Today On Explanations

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PANMUNJOM (P)—The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission moved today to get underway the long-delayed explanations to some 22,600 anti-Red prisoners why they should return home.

The NNRC asked the Allied command to start work on both temporary and permanent facilities where Red representatives will try to talk the 7,900 Koreans and 14,706 Chinese into returning to communism.

The interviews could begin within a week at the temporary site. The truce agreement called for the interviews to begin by Sept. 26 and end 90 days later—Dec. 24. However, the target date was lost in a flurry of haggling over the interview buildings.

The Communists have demanded 32 permanent-type structures, which are to be built by the U. N. Command.

They, in turn, were building sites for the allies to interview 359 allied POWs—including 23 Americans and 1 Briton—who have refused to return home.

The Indian command, which is in charge of the batky POWs of both sides, Monday took over 10 structures built by the Reds for UNC interviewers.

SAYS AMERICANS WANT ADEQUATE DEFENSE; CUT IN TAXES SECOND

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) declared today the American people are worried about the state of national defense and stand ready to continue paying high taxes to build it up.

"If the Republicans think they must cut taxes in order to please the people, they are mistaken," said Jackson, a former member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

His statement, in an interview, was in harmony with an assertion by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.), now chairman of the committee, that he is "ready to surrender" the principle of a balanced budget.

Russ Atomic Claims
Cole was asked on an NBC television interview yesterday if the American people would favor trying to balance the budget if they knew the truth about Russian atomic development.

"No, indeed, they would not," he replied.

Russia's atomic progress—particularly the Soviet claim of mastery over the devastating hydrogen bomb—ran through the statements of Cole and Jackson, as well as other Washington officials, over the weekend.

Fleming's Statement
Mobilization Director Arthur S. Fleming, in the most positive official appraisal of the H-bomb situation to date, said in a quarterly report to President Eisenhower:

"Soviet Russia is capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States."

He told a news conference yesterday that he meant thermonuclear weapons—the hydrogen bomb.

Meanwhile, South Korea's acting foreign minister, Cho Chung Whan, threatened again Monday that his government would order the ROK Army "to fight them (the Indians) if they continue to act hostile to us."

Cho threatened Saturday "to drive the irresponsible Indian troops out of Korea" by armed force if the NNRC and the Indians "do not rectify immediately the evil acts being committed."

Indian guards have killed 3 POWs and wounded 10 in camp disturbances.

The Abelon: For Economical Building

|------------|------------|
| Rooms | Five |
| Bedrooms | Three |
| Closets | Five |
| Cubage | 19,800 ft. |
| Dimensions | 40'x26' |

Measuring 40'x26' in dimensions, "The Abelon" has a cubage of 19,800 feet. There is no garage specified in this house plan designed for budget minded builders, but one can, of course, be constructed if you so desire. If you do not want to have the garage constructed at the same time as the house, but plan to have it built at some later date, make certain that your land is large enough to hold the garage. For the house without the garage, a 60 foot lot will be sufficiently large.

Architectural lines of this house are straight and simple, almost to the point of severity. For a dressed-up, brighter and more friendly exterior appearance for "The Abelon" you'll have to rely upon colored roofing, a combination exterior finish (such as the shingles and fieldstone used for the house in the illustration) and, of course, landscaping.

Since it was but recently constructed, the house in the illustration has no bushes or flowers around it. Yet with a little imagination you can see for yourself how much more attractive "The Abelon" will look as soon as the grass grows and low bushes and border plantings are put in place.

The slight roof overhang protects the front entrance which leads directly to the 19'6"x13'4" living room. Spacious and pleasant, the living room has a handsomely large picture window, flanked by casement windows, in the front wall. Extra light and ventilation reach the room through the window in the left wall.

Because so many home owners like to have fireplaces one was included in this plan, to be placed in the back living room wall. However, a fireplace is not essential and, if you want to keep construction expenses to a minimum, it can easily be omitted.

Built-in bookshelves line the back wall from the fireplace to the jut made by the den or bedroom wall; these make a handy storage place for those accumulations of books that seem to be "all over the place" in many homes. The long unbroken expanse of wall space in the living room make an easy task of attractive and convenient furniture arrangements.

In the back wall of the living room the door leads to the all-modern kitchen which measures 11'4"x9'0". Working counters line the left and back walls of the room in an L shaped array. The refrigerator is located at the left end of the line of working counters; the sink is placed under the window in the back wall.

But a short distance from the refrigerator, the stove is placed in the right front corner of the room. In this location the stove is near enough to the breakfast nook, in the left front corner of the room, to make serving breakfasts and other meals in this cozy little eating area no problem whatsoever. The window in the left wall of the kitchen provides extra light for the entire kitchen and for the breakfast nook, in particular.

Ironing Board
A built-in ironing board opens from the right kitchen wall. When you've through with your ironing tasks you can simply fold the board up against the wall where it's conveniently out of the way yet close at hand whenever you need it again.

Probe Mystery Blast In Scranton Ice Plant

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Investigation is underway today of a mysterious explosion which levelled a dry ice manufacturing plant in downtown Scranton.

The explosion rocked the area, shattering thousands of windows and damaging nearby buildings. Twisted steel uprights were all that remained of the cinder-block and timber ice plant.

The explosion occurred during the latter part of the World Series game. Hundreds of residents left their television sets to check with police. The Pure Carbonic Co. occupied the demolished building.

1,000 Fight Tough Calif. Forest Fire

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—More than 1,000 fought a stubborn fire yesterday at Mare Island Navy Yard that caused one death, injured 12, and caused damage estimated by the Navy at $200,000.

Shooting flames visible for miles, the spectacular blaze flared uncontrolled for hours after it was discovered well under way at a tar-soaked pier.

Hundreds of servicemen—many of them watching a football game at the base—helped fight the fire along with civilian firemen.

Fireman L. A. McIntosh of Ileton, weighted down with heavy equipment, drowned when he fell from a fireboat.

Kyle Rote, halfback on the New York football Giants, recently was named director of a Texas insurance company.

Hardy Lilies Grow Best When Planted In Autumn

Olympia Hybrid Lilies Thrives in All Gardens

Bulbs of hardy lilies should always be planted in the fall, where possible. Otherwise they will spend the winter in cold storage and when planted in the spring will have been weakened by the experience. Varieties which find your garden to their liking will thrive and bloom with little attention and live for many years undisturbed.

Experience with lily bulb production in this country has given several new hybrid strains, and led to discarding some of the advice for growing lilies which was formerly accepted. The idea, for example, that some lilies must have acid soil is no longer considered valid.

What lilies must have is a well-drained deep, rich porous soil, plus an ample supply of moisture while they are growing. Do not try to grow them in a heavy clay, or in a location where water stands after heavy rains, and the soil is slow to dry out.

Lilies will not thrive in shade, except the lightest. The soil in which they are planted should be worked a foot deep. If your soil is chiefly clay select a location on a slope to the south, if possible, and work into the soil as much organic matter as you can such as peat, sewage sludge, well decayed manure, peat moss, or compost.

Depth of planting should be varied with the size of the bulb. There should be soil above the bulb equaling the diameter of the bulb. Lillium candidum, always an exception on this point, should barely be covered with soil. Each variety of lily it seems has its favorite depth, but if you plant them as here suggested they will find their own proper level.

Even swamp loving lilies grow on dry hummocks, and only water lilies like to have their roots constantly wet. If there is any doubt about the drainage of the place you select to plant lily bulbs, raise the bed a foot above the surface.

Lilies thrive on commercial plant food, responding with more and better flowers. Mix this food with the soil when planting, and apply it annually, with an extra top dressing when flower buds appear.

These planting suggestions originate on the Pacific coast where many new varieties of lilies are now produced. These are likely to be healthier than Japanese bulbs or even the bulbs of wild kinds gathered in this country. Whether they are as hardy as the original species is yet to be proved. But they will survive freezing weather, and if a heavy mulch of leaves, straw, or similar material is put over the bulbs it will keep the temperature of the soil sufficiently higher during severe cold spells to protect the bulbs. Apply the mulch after the ground has a frozen crust.

SAYS SATCHEL IS 53

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion, who managed the St. Louis Browns this year, says he got along just dandy with Bill Veeck, his boss. "Mr. Veeck never told me who to play," says Marion "only he'd like to see me use Satchel Paige more often. Satchel is a great athlete but he's 53."

Ex-Union Official Goes On Trial Today

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP)—Anthony (Tony Cheese) Marchitto, former business agent of Local 1247, International Longshoremen's Association, was scheduled to be tried today on charges of atrocious assault and battery.

Along with Marchitto as defendants are three other ILA members—Nicholas Amadio, 28, Louis Manna, 23, and Vincent Mattiello, 30, all of Jersey City.

All four are accused of attacking John Trusavage of Wilkes Barre, Pa., in February 1952 outside a plant in Lodi; during a fight reportedly was connected with labor troubles at the plant.

A Salute to Your GETTYSBURG TIMES BOY

from ex-newspaper boy

Tony Curtis

"I'm proud to tell you that today is Newspaperboy Day all over America. For not so many years ago I was a newspaper-boy myself, on the sidewalks of New York. It was one of the most important experiences of my life—for it taught me a lot about life, and a lot about people. And, as I look back now, I realize what an All-American institution the American newspaperboy is! Selling newspapers is a kid's first job. His first chance to get out on his own. To develop and build the kind of character that only comes from meeting people and working with them in a free spirit of competition, like we have here in America. It's a job that performs a service for you and your community, too. Bringing you the complete, uncensored news of the day. And keeping you in touch with the outside world and the immediate happenings around you. So help me salute your newspaperboy. For his is an All-American example for all America—from his faithful service to the public—to his planned savings for the future, through U. S. Savings Bonds."

A fine example. A fine saving.

In recent years the 500,000 newspaperboys of America have been investing in their future through U. S. Savings Bonds. A guaranteed method of saving that will work for you, too! For U. S. Savings Bonds make you save money. And at a good 3% interest! Here are two such plans, worked out for you by your treasury.

Pick your plan!

If you work for a company, go to the pay office now and sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan. On this plan, your company will automatically save a certain amount of your salary for you each payday and invest it in U. S. Savings Bonds. Sign up for as little or as much as you like. And each time you have enough saved, it will be invested in a Bond, in your name and turned over to you.

If you're self-employed, or have an independent income, join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Just authorize your bank, and they'll automatically issue a Bond in your name each month, charging the amount of the Bond to your checking account, and delivering the Bonds to you.

CLING TO HOPE IN GREENLEASE KIDNAPING CASE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The wealthy parents of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease still cling today to the hope he would be returned safely as the kidnapping case entered its second week with the possibility the FBI may step in officially.

A day of silence by the family was broken by Paul Greenlease, an adopted son. Asked if the family had any reason to think little Bobby wouldn't come back safe, Greenlease replied:

"Oh, no. We don't think that. Mother would never think that."

FBI May Come In Today

But he gave no reason for the hope, insisting that if the family has had any contact with the kidnapers "I don't know anything about it."

"We'll just have to be patient," he added.

The FBI may officially enter the case today. Under the Lindbergh kidnaping law, the FBI may step in on the seventh day after the assumption the victim has been taken across a state line.

Police Stay Out

The FBI has been out of its plans. Police have maintained a hands-off policy at the request of the family.

The 71-year-old father, Robert C. Greenlease, and his business associates have worked quietly from within the big, red brick home in an effort to negotiate Bobby's release.

Shortly before midnight two Cadillac cars rolled out of the Greenlease driveway and sped off into the night. Later one returned.

There was little activity at the home yesterday.

Prayer Offered

The Rev. Herman J. Koch spent about 45 minutes at the home. Mrs. Greenlease is a member of his parish. He said she had been at mass several times during the week.

Prayers for the safe return of Bobby were offered in numerous churches here yesterday. Prayers have been offered at every mass at Mrs. Greenlease's church.

Bobby was abducted Monday from a private Catholic school by a woman who posed as an aunt.
